Re: Proposed U.S. Patent Application
For: Integrated Transmission Bell Housing
Inventors: Tim T. Clark and Harry L. Schoell
Our Ref: 6935-0001

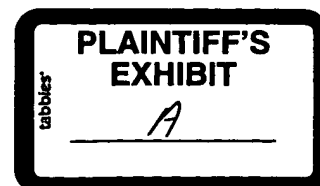

Dear Mr. Schoell:

We represent Tim Clark and Rocketek who have retained our firm to file the enclosed patent application by February 11, 2004. The patent application must be filed by February 11 because the invention was on display February 11, 2003 and federal patent law requires that the patent be filed within one (1) year from the first public disclosure of the invention.

The Patent Office Rules requires that we seek your approval of the enclosed patent application and your signature on the enclosed patent declaration. The Rules also provide that if you do not sign the patent declaration, Rocketek can file papers in the Patent and Trademark Office without your approval. See 37 C.F.R. 1.63, 1.64, 1.47.

An original patent application is enclosed along with an attached Declaration and accompanying informal drawings. Copies of these papers are enclosed for your records.

Please carefully review the patent application. If you want to change anything in the application, please make the changes in ink and date and initial each change in the margin of the original patent application. After you have completed your review, please sign and date the Declaration attached to the original application and return it to our office.

The Patent and Trademark Office requires that all known, relevant and material, prior art references, such as patents and other information, be disclosed to the Examiner handling your application. Please advise if you are aware of any prior art or other information. The duty to disclose material and relevant prior art is ongoing, and continues throughout the pendency of the application. Please advise if you are aware of any prior art or other information which may affect the examination of this application.

Sincerely,

Robert C. Kain, Jr.
